WANTER.—Two good compositors at this office. None others need apply.

Arrival and Departure.

In a cart notice (the only one permitted by the space at our disposal) we mentioned the arrival of Companies A, H, K and M, 2d Cav. C. V., from Camp Conness for the purpose of wintering. The officers who arrived with these Companies are, Major Edw. McGarry, commanding 2d Cavalry, C. V.; Major John M. O'Neill; Surgeon J. M. Williamson; Adj't F. L. Weed, and Regimental Quartermaster, Lieut. C. Harriott. The Regimental Commissary of the 2d Cavalry, Lieut. H. R. Miller, had all along been on detached service at this Post as Post Commissary. The Company officers who arrived are, Capt. D. J. Berry and Lieut. Anthony Etheir, of Company A; 1st. Lieut. C. D. Clark, commanding Company II; Capt. S. P. Smith and 1st Lieut. H. L. Street, of Company K, and Capt. Geo. F. Price and 1st Lieut. G. D. Conrad, of Company M. The time of a considerable number of the men in these Companies will have expired by the 11th of next month, at which time they will be regu-Iarly mustered out of the service, and the enlisted men remaining will (if it be deemed necessary-as it probably will,) be consolidated so as to form one or more companies complete, to the maximum allowed by law. Quite a number of the men have re-enlisted as Veterans;-though few in proportion to the number of men of the 3d regiment of Infantry who have done so; and we presume that by the 11th proximo, there will be quite a stampede of discharged soldiers to Rush Valley and to California. A few desirous of seeing their relatives and friends, will return to the States; but the great majority will take one or other of the directions indicated above.

Since the arrival of the companies here, an order has been received from Head-Quarters of the Department, transferring the headquarters of the 2d Cavalry, C. V., to Camp Union, near Sacramento, California, in consequence of which, Major McGarry will leave on Friday next, and will be followed as soon thereafter as possible, by Surgeon Williamson, Lieuts. Weed, Miller and Harriott of the staff, and by the members of the non-commissioned staff of the regiment.

There are seven companies of the regiment in California and but five here in all, whence it is manifestly better that the regimental head-quarters should be in California, were there even no other good reason for the change which has been made; -and while we are sorry to part with the gentlemen named. we are yet convinced that the change is highly satisfactory to themselves, and we can only express the hope that the upright demeanor and gentlemanly conduct which have won those officers so many friends among our citizens, may serve as a model to the officers they are soon to be replaced. As for the rank and file, we have had occasion frequently to observe, and we repeat, favored with the presence of a large command and demicites-whose demeanor was so quiet and unobtrusive, and of whom so little was ever heard in an offensive way. We therefore, heartily wish to such of them as desire to see their old bomes and friends, a safe return East ;-to those who revisit California, a warm greeting on their arrival; and to such as remain, a good yield of wealth from Rush Valley.

TRANSLATION OF REMAINS.—The remains of the late John K. Briggs, of Company H, 2d Cavalry, C. V., who was killed in the battle of Bear River, January, 29, 1863, were yesterday taken up from the Camp Cometery, where so many of his comrades repose, and enclosed in a chest to be taken to California, prior to shipping them to Rochester, N. Y .- where his mother and other relatives reside. Major Edw., McGarry, 2d. Cavalry, C. V., superintends the transmission of his remains to his thirty men, to foin his company.—Sac. Union, mourning relatives.

Error or ran Nava.—Smultaneously with the news of the unparalleled successes of our gallant semies in the East, we read in the telegraphic dispatches of this morning an account of the tembling down of prices at which imports of all kinds have been previously sold-a result naturally attendant upon the fall (to rise no more, we trust) of the speculative prices at which the money shavers of Wall street have held gold coin. These brokers and shavers (allas swindlers) have certainly worked in this respect with a zeal, pertinacity and and an ingenuity worthy of a better cause than that in which they have been engaged, but it is now apparent, even to them, that the promise of the United States to pay money is bound in the long run to be as good as the gold itself.

The fall in gold has reached us in this city in due course, and we trust the fall in the prices of all merchandise and articles of consumption may permeate to the citizens of Utah Territory, also in its time-though we doubt not but that a strenuous effort will be made by the "Godly" to keep up prices, notwithstanding the news and the state of the markets both East and West. It will not work, however. Mrs. Partington could not repress the rising tide of the Atlantic, though she trundled her busy broom ever so deftly, and the actual oppressors of the people who, under the specious guise of religion, try the same game here, will find themselves engaged in an equally vain attempt.

A TRIP TO STOCKTON .- On Tuesday morning last G. C. Haswell, formerly Deputy Sheriff of this county, started from this city for Stockton, having in charge an insane man named Edward Gill. Haswell did not return until noon yesterday, and accounts for his absence for one day more than usual by stating that the insane man managed to put him (Haswell) into the Ayslum instead of bimself and keep him there nearly a whole day. It appears from Haswell's narrative that shortly after leaving on the stage, Gill possessed himself of the papers in the case, and commenced telling the passengers what a peculiar kind of a crazy man he had under his charge; that he wanted to make people believe that he was taking him (Gill) to Stockton, etc. Haswell saw the joke, but the more he tried to get the documents from Gill the more the passengers thought he was insane, until the former gave gave it up in despair. Arriving at the Asylum, they both went into the reception room. Haswell looking about eagerly for some one to relieve him from the dilemma which he was in. But Gill commenced telling what trouble he had with his man on the road up. trying to get his papers from him, telling the people that he was an officer, and that Has-well had succeeded in getting his pistol, and to pacify him be was compelled to give him sheath and belt and let him wear it. The upshot was, that George was placed in confine ment and Gill allowed to depart. Haswell was not realeased until next morning, being recognized by some parties whom he had sent for. He soon found his man Gill on the streets and placed him in the Asylum. The story is readable, whether based on fact or fiction.— Sac. Union, Sept. 16th.

TAIL RUNNING INDEED. - A correspondent of the Gold Hill (N. T.) News, writing from San Francisco, Sept. 1st, gives an account of steamboat racing, which now affords sad food for of the Nevada Territory Cavalry, by whom reflection, in view of the late catastrophe :

"If there is anything I do feel a weakness for in this world, it is a square steambout run. and I had the pleasure of seeing a capital one on Tuesday night. The California Steam Navthat rarely indeed, has any population been igation Company's beautiful steamer Yosemile favored with the presence of a large command was stripped for a race, the freight being all put on board the Antelope, and those two vessels, the Paul Pry and the Washoe. all left their wharves within a short distance of each other, bound up the river. The bay was very rough, and the Yosemite and Antelope had therefore the advantage, being deep draught boats; but as the Washoe went past the city front it was evident that she was 'into it,' and long before the Red Rock was passed she had left all competitors far behind. She beat the Yosemile fourteen minutes to Benicia, and the others were nowhere in the race. As she is now in complete order, we look for some of the tallest running within the next few weeks which was ever ventured on these waters. The California Steam Navigation Company are not the ones to let up on a rival so easily, and the relative ability of their different boats will be tested to the utmost before they give in beaten by a boat which only draws four feet of water." The test has been applied and mourners now walk the streets.—Sac. Union, Sep. 7.

St. Louis, Sept. 27th.
Official information still puts Price's main force at Fredricktown with the advance at Farmington, St. Francis county. The main body is estimated at 10 or 12,000 strong principally cavalry. The advance, about 4,000, are mounted. A light attack was made on Pilot Knob and Ironton yesterday, which was easily repulsed. It now appears that Pilot Knob was not evacuated as previously reported. Price's plans are as yet undeveloped, but he seems to be massing his forces in Arcadia valley, Gen. Mower, who left Brownsville, Arkansas, two weeks ago with a strong force of cavalry and artillery, is still moving north-ward in Price's rear and will be heard from in good time. Considerable bodies of troops are arriving here and the cavalry and infantry are being assigned to proper positions. The militia is responding promptly to the call of the commanding General, and the citizens generally manifest a strong disposition to organize for local defense.

Foreign News.

New York, Sept. 27th. The City of Baltimore arrived at 3-30. There is a statement that Semmes was to have a new vessel. This is, however, contradicted. The Daily News says that the Federal successes reduces the proceedings of the Chicago Convention to comparative insignificance. The rebel loan has declined three per cent. The new rebel loan, lately announced, is bogus. Linne & Morris, in the American trade, bave suspended. The English papers generally are discussing the prospects of peace, the most of them seeming to take the view that peace by an armistice is highly probable. Nashville, Sept. 27th.

Rosseau reached Pulaski yesterday at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Forrest's force was within seven miles of Pulaski and advancing. Heavy skirmishing continued until after dark by the advance of both forces. A telegram was received here this morning and reports the enemy still near Pulaski in force. Cavalry fighting has been going on all morning, and reinforcements of infantry having arrived, the probabilities are that a general engagement will take place to-day.

An attempt is reported being made by the enemy with 3,000 men and six pieces of artillery to flank Rosseau. Beavy skirmishing all day. Enemy is still advancing. Our infantry and cavalry are reported in line of battle and would attack the rebel scouts at Franklin. There is a report that Colonel Biffle's with a large force of the between Williamsport and Hillshops. men is between Williamsport and Hillsboro. A dispatch from Columbia, says, on the 26th, Biffle was at Lawrenceburg with 700 men and two pieces of artillery. The report that Johnsville on the Tennessee river was captured, is unfounded. Ample preparations have been made for its defence.

Lee's Army About to Move.

New York, Sept. 28th. The Herald's City Point correspondent of the 26th, says: Early's defeat in the valley produces great uncasiness in the rebel army immediately opposite to us and results of great importance are looked for within a few days. That Lee is getting ready for some new movement is very evident. During the past few nights our troops on the front line could hear the noise of trains and artillery in motion. Lee is doubtless working to aid Early;—he stands aghast at the prospect of Sheridan's driving Early beyond the possibility of his holding the Central railroad which leads to holding the Central railroad which leads to Lynchburg from Richmond, and thence by contracting his lines around Petersburg hopes to be able to detach a force sufficient to reinforce and rally his demoralized army from the Shenandoah

The Herald's correspondent with the 10th corps also says the movements of the enemy are full of unensiness which is manifest in all their movements. They are certainly getting ready for a movement of some kind—perhaps to fall back to Switt errek, the first of their lines between Petersburg and Richmond. The reason doubtlessly is, that Grant is being too strongly reinforced for the rebels to maintain their extended line-now over ten miles in Early still Retreating closely Followed by the Union Cavalry.

The Herald's Jackson correspondent of the 24th, says: Although we have had considerable fighting since leaving Winobester, still there has been nothing in the way of a regular battle or anything approaching the action of Monday last. The capture of artillery, flags, etc., at Fishers Hill were made more by the rapidity of our movements and accurate maneuvering than by force of battle. To-day we are still moving on and the enemy is re-tiring. Our cavalry is doing nobly. It is be-youd doubt now that Early is doing every-thing he can to get out of our reach, and should an engagement ensue to-day or to-mor-row it will be because we have forced him into it : every hour adds more and more prisoners to our already immense number.

The Herald's Harper's Ferry correspondent of the 26th, says: Sheridan fully expected General Tarbett to intercept and capture the whole rebel army, but it seems he encountered a division of reinforcements hurrying to join Early and was engaged with them all daybeen for this, Early's whole command would have been captured.

Still further from Sheridan. The World's correspondent with Sheridan says our loss in killed and wounded at Fisber's Hill will not exceed 200. Thus was Lee's right arm in the valley broken, and our victory an almost bloodless one.

New York, Sept. 28th.

The Tribune's Harper's Ferry correspond dent of the 27th, says: The completeness of the surprise of the rebels at Fisher's Hill may be imagined from the fact that the guns cap-tured were all loaded to their muzzles with grape and cannister; but Crook's charge was so impetuous and rapid that the rebels did not get time to discharge them. The losses of the rebels in the recent fight, as reported by Government officials sent to ascertain the facts, are as follows : Arrived at Harper's Ferry, 288 officers and 3,100 men; wounded at Win-chester. 2,200; captured between Fisher's Hill and Woodstock, 2.200; wounded and carried off by the rebels, estimated at 1,700; wounded at road-side houses, estimated at 1,000; killed and wounded by the cavalry in Surry Valley, 350. Total, nearly 11,000.

New York, Sept. 27th.

At the auctions of dry-goods to-day, there was a marked fall in prices, amounting to 38 and 40 per cent. less than regular prices three weeks ago. Gold opened steadler this morning and the price her bear successful by heavy and the price has been sustained by heavy purchases to cover shorts. There were rather lively times among importers, auctioneers and buyers generally, owing to the feverish state of political and financial affairs. Many kinds of goods fell—some 10, 20 and 25 per cent. For instance, Paul de Chevres and Wooden Fillings, which two weeks ago brought 85 cts., were knocked down to-day at 50 cts.; some lots being withdrawn. Inferior qualities of articles heretofore commanding from 60 to 80 cts., went down to 42 and 44 cts. A few lots of forty inch bagging and burlaps sold from 15 to 20 per cent. below average prices. Domestic goods are firm in comparison with forcion articles.

Peace Negotiations in Georgia.

New York, 27th.

Concerning the peace negotiations in Georgia, the Evening Post says: Gen. Sherman, (we are authorized to say.) will not negotiate except on terms of the unconditional submission of the rebels to our Government and the Union the fullest acknowledgements of its Union the fullest acknowledgements of its rights and an open admission that the war against the Union was what Alex. H. Stephens declared it would be, in 1860, viz: plunder and crime. The Post says, if the Georgia authorities will agree to these preliminaries. Gen. Sherman will meet them frankly and cheerfully. frankly and cheerfully.

News from Rosseau's Command.

Nashville, 27th.

Skirmishing with rebel forces under Forrest continued all day. Rosseau fell back two miles from Pulaski, but re-advanced and holds the town up to 7 P. M. to-day. The enemy have advanced their skirmish line to within half a mile of ours. They will probably advance their lines and attack in the morning. Our loss in to day's fighting will not exceed 80 men. not exceed 80 men.

Prisoners were captured in Marshall county on their way to McMinnville with dispatches for Cerro Gordo Williams, who was to unite with Forrest. These stated that Forrest had twenty pieces of artillery and about 7.000 men. Six regiments are reported to have been sent him from Wheeler's force.

Col. Donaldson, chief of the quartermasters department on the Cumberland, has organized a force in that department amounting to over 7,000 men. comprising eight regiments. Arms and equipments are to be furnished them, and they are to be in readiness at a moments notice to co-operate with the regular troops when occasion may require.

A REMINISCENCE OF LOLD MONTEL -Manager Lumley's "Reminiscences of the Opera" contains the following story about Lola Montez:

There is still another event remaining in the circumstances connected with which there is something so strangely ludicrous that I can scarcely look back upon it without a smile This event was the appearance, as a danseus, of the late celebrated Lola Montez. It is not my intention to rake up the world-wide stories of this strange and fascinating woman, not long since passed from the world. Perhaps it will be sufficient to say frankly that I was in this instance fairly "taken in." A noble lord, (af-terwards closely connected with the Foreign Office,) had introduced the lady to my notice as the daughter of a celebrated Spanish patriot and martyr, representing her merits as a dancer in so strong a light that her "appearance" was granted. The afterwards great Lola was received with rapture. Public, press, opera goers all gave way to such immoderate fits of enthusiasm that it is difficult at this day to account for the strange infatuation which prevailed all ranks.

True, the so-called Seffora was singularly beautiful; her style was new and there was something piquant and provocative in the surprise created. Yet she had no pretentions to the title of danseuse in any sense. To speak the plain truth, she was the veriest novice in her art, which she had never studied as an art at all. I do not intend by this plain statement to declare that the French and Italian schools of dancing are alone to be en dured by spectators of the highest class, for there is art in the Spanish school of dancing, as well as in the others. But this spurious Spanish lady had no real knowledge of that which she professed. The whole affair was an imposture; and on the very night of her first appearance, the truth exploded. Doubts already created were confirmed, and the true Spaniards indignantly refused to acknowledge the impostor as an exponent of their national dance.

On the discovery of the truth I declined to allow the English adventuress, for such she was, another appearance on my boards; and certain is it that I acted wisely, though I had to exercise the virtue of self-denial, as there is little doubt from the reception she had met with the first night that the lovely woman would have drawn large sums of money to my treasury for some time at least. In spite of the expostulations of the "friends" of the English lady; in. spite of the deprecatory letters in which she earnestly denied her English origin, and asserted that she was a true "Lola," a genuine "Montez;" in spite of even the desire expressed in high places to witness her strange French Lawns, Chambrays, Calicoes, performance, I remained inflexible, and the false danseuse was never again allowed to exhibit her handsome person and spurious graces at Her Majesty's Theater.

"THE MAN WITH THE GLASS EYE."-It is stated that one of the deserters lately shot in the army, enlisted and was discharged or deserted twelve different times. He had lost one of his eyes, and falling into the hands of a substitute broker in Boston, the latter furnished him a very neat glass eye and enlisted him, and he was sent to the army. There he soon lost his eye again, or rather removed it and put it into his pocket and obtained his discharge. This process he several times repeated, and when unable to get his discharge deserted. Unfortunately thirteen proved an unlucky number for The Highest Price Paid for Gold him, and the trick being discovered, he was tried and sentenced to be shot.
